

DISK WARS VR

Upload yourself to the network. Learn to control the disc. Hone your skills and engage in mortal combat with an opponent in deadly VR action.

Fans of Retro-futurism and VR alike will be drawn to the 80's aesthetic and athletic gameplay. Players will be able to throw, catch, block, and dodge as if they were really in the game.

Each match will be best three out of five rounds. Players will win a round if their disk makes contact with the opponent, and lose if their opponent's disk connects with them. Players will connect with others via the Internet for matches, and their win/loss ratio will be recorded.

DISK WARS VR is being developed for the HTC Vive and will be available to the public in Spring 2018.

